More Information...

Focused on the needs of California, participants emerge from the Military Child Education Coalition's Symposium on Military-Connected Children with Unique Learning Needs personally renewed, professionally energized, and better prepared to collaborate and respond to the amplified needs of military children with learning, physical, emotional challenges and attributes.

This seminar will be a professional setting where California's community leaders, military leaders, and educational civilian service providers can thoughtfully link their support for children and youth with a parent serving our nation.
