

James Markert

James Markert is a deaf, 20 year old college student who's overcome many challenges. After attending 12 schools from coast to coast as a military child, James graduated from high school in Killeen, Texas. He is currently finishing his third year at The University of Texas at Austin, dual majoring in Special Education and Communication Sciences and Disorders. James hopes to help students someday as he and his youngest brother, also deaf, have been helped in the past.