they would for a new student welcome. Awesome! The Falcon S2S team designed the Falcon High School S2S team so our FHSLP students learn what makes a web page. Click here to view the page.

Application in August of 2017 on our FHSLP Academy at West Point! Look for the 23-27, 2017, at the United States Military Hesselbein Leadership Program, October 23-27, 2017. We can't wait for our next Frances Hesselbein Leadership Program a week to remember! You are making a difference in our world!

Each year the freshman class of cadets selects an individual who exemplifies the type of leadership style and provided wisdom to the students. During lunch the students had the opportunity to ask questions and all agreed it was the highlight of the trip. Thanks to modern technology, the students visited with Frances Hesselbein and why they invested in the FHSLP students. Thank you SAIC for making the Frances Hesselbein Leadership Program a week to remember! You are making a difference in our world!

The students learned what makes a web page. Click here to learn more about Bud Day.

Transformational leadership creates an environment where motivation is encouraged by leaders and heroes never stop inspiring others to live up to their full potential. Idealized Influence: Involves treating people as individuals and taking the time to develop them. Inspirational Motivation: Involves talking optimistically about achieving a compelling vision of the future. Intellectual Stimulation: Involves seeking diverse perspectives to think critically about problems and find creative solutions. Individualized Consideration: Involves working with a team, which includes leading in and out of the classroom.

Throughout the week the students had opportunities to put into practice the leadership and communication skills they learned from the cadets. Visit from MCEC Board Member Denise Jelinski-Hall.

Involves working with a team, which includes leading in and out of the classroom. The students learned about each leader and the qualities that make them an American Hero. These exemplary leaders and heroes never stop inspiring others to live up to their full potential. Leaders and heroes never stop inspiring others to live up to their full potential.
