

Darasha Singleton

Anchor, Senior Correspondent, & Reporter

---

Darasha, hailing from Augusta, Georgia, is the daughter of two Army veterans and stepdaughter to a Marine veteran, she experienced many of the challenges of being a military child, like spending a lot of time away from her parents.

Darasha was born at USAG Heidelberg, one of the largest American bases located in Germany. She is now pursuing a master's degree at Syracuse University, for broadcast journalism, at the Newhouse School of Public Communications. Darasha has performed roles as an Anchor and senior correspondent for CitrusTV and a reporter for NCC News. Darasha also holds membership in several journalism organizations, including the National Association of Black Journalists, Atlanta Association of Black Journalists, and Media Girls Network.

During her free time, Darasha enjoys watching romcoms and musicals. She is excited to facilitate the conversation amongst other military connected individuals at the MCEC NTS.
