Dr. Black is currently faculty at UCSD in the Education Studies Department and Teacher Education Programs. A former middle school educator in San Diego County school districts among diverse communities, Dr. Black is dedicated to finding ways to make schools more supportive for youth, especially Military-Connected youth, through research and teacher education.