Engjell Latollari serves as a Senior Project Manager in the U.S. Social Impact department at Sesame Workshop, the non-profit educational organization behind the beloved children's show, Sesame Street. In his work at Sesame, Engjell leads projects for Sesame Street In Communities and Sesame Street for Military Families, with the goal to help kids, families, and the providers who serve them grow smarter, stronger, and kinder.

Before joining Sesame Workshop, Engjell spent a decade working in innovative nonprofit organizations focused on grantmaking, social entrepreneurship, and advancing systemic change. In his last role at Echoing Green, he designed and delivered grantmaking strategies and solutions that increased equity, impact, and operational efficiency, and distributed more than $20 million to entrepreneurs globally whose solutions tackled the world’s biggest problems. Engjell is a graduate of The City College of New York.
